

autotec marketing is an independent sales, marketing and engineering agency.

Founded in May 1989, the company's objective is to provide its customers with access to a supply base providing competitive manufacturing capacity and using state-of-the-art technology.

autotec marketing is a dedicated, resourceful and highly skilled team of technical sales engineers, qualified in mechanical and quality engineering. We have many years of industry experience and a marketing and customer liaison support team fluent in several languages, including French, German, Spanish, Hungarian and Chinese.

Global supply and development in engineering, sales and marketing is provided by a network of agencies operating in all the major automotive markets, as well as through our own sales office in Shanghai, China and Győr, Hungary.

At autotec marketing our goal is to offer the best possible service, both to our customers and our principals so that by combining the engineering, sales and marketing skills and appropriate technologies, we will deliver a competitive advantage and ensure that the result is the design of cost-efficient, quality products.

Using autotec marketing as your representative could make the difference between failure and success. Our market knowledge and local contacts enable us to spot opportunities, whilst our understanding of the European languages and business culture can provide a vital edge in exploiting those opportunities.
